NO FISH WAR.

THE BRITONS ARE NOT ANXIOUS TO TACKLE UNCLE SAM.

THEY SAY THE QUESTION MUST BE SETTLED AMICABLY.

The General Opinion That the Taunts and Threats of Both Nations Will Cause Bad Blood for Some Time to Come and Be Damaging to Both Countries—The United States Will Determine the Exact Location of the St. Clair Flats Canal.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—If anyone in America believes that President Cleveland's retaliatory pronouncement has thrown the British mind into perturbation and that breathings of fire and slaughter are universal here, those who are apprehensive or hopeful of any trouble between the two countries on any Canadian question may set their minds at rest.

Not for all the codfish spawned in the sea would England allow the Dominion to drag her into hostilities with the United States. The general opinion is that the matter can and must be settled amicably. There is no idea that the United States covets Canadian territory, and nothing short of an invasion would provoke the unwished-for struggle.

A few journals of the Standard sort proclaim their opinions with a voice which they intend for the roar of the British lion, but it is generally taken for the utterance of a more domestic animal. Probably not one in a hundred of their readers remember the Trent affair, reference to which the Standard thinks will send dismay to the Yankee heart, while the British ironclads have not shown themselves so formidable as to produce much dread in a country 3,000 miles away.

The Times is calm and argumentative, the Observer takes the most practical ground and thinks no action may be expected, since neither party would be the gainer by it, and the Telegraph's articles on the subject are so contradictory as to be baffling to the ordinary reader. In the clubs and among business men the general opinion appears to be that the Canadians are bores or even nuisances, provoking aggression and threatening the provoked party with all the retaliatory force of English arms.

All agree, however, that the taunts and threats that are crossing the Atlantic in both directions will make bad blood between the two countries for some time to come, and undo the efforts of the statesmen in both England and America to simplify relations concerning the enormous and mutually profitable traffic between the two nations. It is considered as a matter of course that a commission will be appointed to re-solve all disputed questions, including the line of the St. Clair Flats canal in an unmistakable manner. Pending its formation and deliberation both peoples will have time to cool off, much to the disgust, no doubt, of the fiery patriots on either side.

The St. Clair Flats Canal.
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The war department has referred Senator Cullum's resolution relative to the St. Clair canal to Col. Pope, the engineer officer in charge of the works at Detroit, for a report. Until the report is received, nothing very enlightening can be known. The question is entirely one of the accuracy of the survey boundary commission, which in its reports in 1852 named with precision the streams which were to form the boundary between this country and Canada. The middle of the stream was by the treaty of 1783 to constitute the boundary.

The question is as to whether the canal is entirely on our side of the boundary or not.

The treaty of Washington contained what was tantamount to an admission by the Canadian government that the canal was American property by specifically granting to Canadians the privilege of using it. If it had been Canadian property such a stipulation, based on the assumption that our government was granting a privilege instead of conceding a right, would have been resented as an insult.

Senator Cullum has received a letter from a Canadian gentleman in Michigan, stating that no more than ten feet of the St. Clair Flats canal was within our boundary. If this is so, he said, the Canadians could, by sinking a few coal barges on their side of the line, make the canal entirely un navigable.

The officers of the war department state that Pope's report may be expected here in five or six days.

No investigation of the diplomatic side of the controversy has been begun at the state department.

Senator Cullum says he will, if necessary, introduce another resolution, calling on the state department for any information in its possession.

Fresh Officer Called Down.
 OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 7.—The department of militia is greatly incensed over the action of Lieut. G. M. Douglas, of the Twenty-fourth light infantry, in writing a letter to a Toronto newspaper, over his own name and rank as an officer of the militia of Canada, dwelling upon the possibility of war with the United States, and suggesting that Canada's prime move would be to take Detroit. He has been asked for an explanation, and it is believed he will be asked to resign.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.
 Extensive Preparations for the Event at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—Whatever shortcomings Columbus may be charged with, it cannot be said that she is not making every possible preparation to properly entertain the National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic next week. Those who have had the work of preparation in charge have been indefatigable in their labors. Everything that can be foreseen will be done to make the visiting veterans of the late war as comfortable as possible. A big crowd is expected, and the preparations are on that scale. The city has been thoroughly canvassed for the entertainment of guests, and the large and commodious camps are well arranged, and will be a surprise to many.

The work of decorating the city is now going on, and it is on a grand scale. Nothing approaching it has ever been witnessed here, and the preparation in this line is not completed. The work furnishes employment to thousands of persons, who would otherwise be idle. In short, the encampment is expected to be a grand affair. Everything possible is being done to make it the greatest event that has ever taken place here.

Judge O'Neill, department commander, has arrived and opened Ohio headquarters in the state house, where he will attend to such matters as may be brought before him.

LESTER WALLACK DEAD.

The Well Known Actor Dies at His Home in Connecticut.

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—The well known actor, Lester Wallack, died at 7:20 a. m., from the effects of an apoplectic stroke received Wednesday.

Lester Wallack was the favorite son of J. W. Wallack, who came to America from England in 1818, and played successfully in New York for many years. He organized the Wallack stock company in 1852. In a play then produced a young actor appeared who was named on the bills "Mr. Lester." He speedily became a favorite, and soon came out under his own name of Lester Wallack, and for thirty years delighted the people of New York with his rendition of character.

In 1863 was produced Lester Wallack's own composition, the celebrated "Rosedale, or the Rifle Ball," a play that has not yet died, and probably will not be entirely lost for many years to come. In this play Lester Wallack won laurels enough both as playwright and actor to satisfy one of ordinary ambition without any others. He was still young, at least in middle age, handsome as a picture, and was especially fitted for his part—Elliott Gray—which he had doubtless prepared for his own rendition. The play had a run of 125 successive nights, an unprecedented success for those days of short runs.

In 1864 the elder Wallack died, and Lester Wallack became manager. For fourteen years he continued at this post, the theater being closed under his management in 1879. The present Wallack's, on Broadway and Thirtieth street, was opened two years later.

Mr. Wallack was a prominent member of the Lotus club of New York, and well known in literary and theatrical circles.

Later Details of the Dijon Disaster—Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Later details from Dijon the railway disaster near that city increases the loss of life. Additional bodies have been taken out of the ruins, which swells the number known to be killed to thirty. The list of injured now foots up fifty-six. It is feared that others are still buried under the ruins. Eight carriages filled with passengers were broken into splinters and piled up in an interlocked and inextricable mass. Men, women and children were impaled on the broken timbers or crushed by iron work. The engines were demolished by the force of the collision, portions of the boilers and fragments of the iron work being forced into the carriages, the hot steam escaping.

 DUBLIN, Sept. 7.—Lord Clanricarde is completing the work of eviction on his estates by levelling the houses of the tenants who have been evicted. Some of the latter had hoped to compromise the bitter feelings between themselves and their landlord, but Lord Clanricarde had determined to evict them all. The house of Mr. Tully, who was the first victim on last Saturday, was built by Tully himself at a cost of $1,000, but it was torn down.

JACKSONVILLE.

THE CONDITION OF AFFAIRS THERE IS REMARKABLY WORSE.

FIFTY-ONE NEW CASES AND FIVE DEATHS IN A DAY.

A Site For a Refuge Camp Chosen Seven Miles From the Stricken City—Two Hundred Houses to Be Built for the Accommodation of Refugees—The Citizens' Committee Issue an Appeal to the People of the United States for Funds to Fight the Yellow Scurge.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 7.—There were fifty-one new cases of fever in Jacksonville reported Wednesday, and five deaths.

There has been six deaths in the past eighteen hours and twenty-three new cases.

The committee to locate and establish a refuge camp and build 200 houses, have selected a huge pine knoll seven miles west of the city, on the railroad. They have bought forty acres of land, and will lay out a town, drive wells and commence building two-room houses at once.

The place will be called Camp Mitchell. It is expected to be ready for refugees in ten days. It will have a postoffice, express office, and other facilities, and will be well equipped and policed. Two hundred tents will arrive from the Key West refugee camp of fast fall, on Egmont Key, in a few days, for the refuge camp beyond Sand Hills, on Monticler creek.

It is stated that Camp Perry will be enlarged and materially improved, but few respectable citizens will take their families there, owing to presence of many negro roughs.

About three hundred yards from the main camp is the hospital, in which there is at present only one case, a Mrs. McKee, who is doing well. A large wall tent, which holds four beds very comfortably, has been erected, and Mrs. McKee will be moved from the little tent, where she has been lying, into the new tent to-day.

Dr. Wise has taken charge of the hospital camp, and he certainly seemed to be the right man in the right place. He intends to have what is necessary, and will stand no nonsense. He is at the same time a worker, and as the colored people up there who are living free refused to work for fifty cents a day, he, with his own hands and the assistance of his three nurses, is building a wooden cottage on the grounds. Another example of government mismanagement is that the three professional nurses from Pensacola are males, though a female was also requisitioned for, and the only patient here is a female.

The citizens' committee, in conference with the board of health and the acting mayor, issued the following appeal:

"We, the authorized representatives of the citizens of Jacksonville, recognizing the fact that the epidemic has now reached such a stage that our own funds are insufficient either to cope with the many cases of absolute necessity, for the engagement of nurses or for the numerous other demands upon us, and

"WHEREAS, Owing to the absence of all business, many of our most liberal citizens are unable to furnish further funds, we now think we are justified in accepting the many willing offers of aid that have been received from you; we therefore wish our fellow citizens of the United States to know that we will gratefully receive the aid they have offered, and that any contributions will be used for the benefit of those in need, and where they will effect the greatest good. We request that any such contributions may be forwarded to James M. Schumacher, president of the First National bank and the chairman of our finance committee; Neal Mitchell, president of the Duval county board of health; D. T. Gerow, acting mayor, and P. McQuaid, acting president of the Citizens' Auxiliary association, Jacksonville."

Appeal of Mayor Hewitt, of New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Mayor Hewitt, in response to an appeal from the yellow fever stricken people of Jacksonville issued the following proclamation:

"To the Public:
 "The fever stricken people of Jacksonville who have heretofore declined assistance at length appeal to the public for help in their calamity. The mayor of this city will receive and daily forward all contributions which may be sent him, and trusts that the response will be as generous as the emergency is great."
 "ABRAHAM S. HEWITT, Mayor."

The Equitable Life Assurance society has forwarded a check for $1,000 for the sufferers.

Country People Horror-Stricken.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Sept. 7.—A letter has been received in this city disclosing a terrible state of affairs in the town of Bayard, a small settlement on the line of the Jacksonville & St. Augustine railroad, about twenty miles north of here. William Oris, the son of a farmer living at Sampson, about five miles from Bayard, had occasion to visit the latter place.

On nearing the settlement he was attracted by a strong stench emanating from the vicinity of a house supposed to be vacant. Through curiosity he hitched his horse and proceeded to investigate. On reaching the house a ghastly spectacle met his eyes. Stretched upon a couch was the body of a woman, and in the same room were the bodies of five children. They had evidently been dead for several days.

The boy on realizing the horror of the scene fled precipitately and, mounting his horse, rode back to home and told the startling story to his parents. As St. Augustine is strictly quarantined against Bayard and that vicinity, the news did not reach here until several days after the occurrence.

rence. The country people are horror stricken, and even if it were known that anyone was occupying the house it is unlikely that anyone of them could have been induced to go near it if he knew there was a case of yellow fever. It is supposed that the unfortunates were refugees from Jacksonville and were stricken with the disease after leaving town.

A BOY SHOOTS A TRAMP, But in Doing So Accidentally Kills His Brother.

CAMERON, Mo., Sept. 7.—About 8 o'clock Wednesday morning George and Charles Aultman, two brothers, who had been living with relatives at Hamilton, and whose parents reside at Cowdell, were walking to this city from Kidder. About half a mile east of here they met a tramp umbrella mender, whose name is Goodie Walters, and who has been hanging around Cameron several days. He engaged in conversation with them, and learning that Charles, aged sixteen years, had $9 in cash, attacked him with a large knife, evidently with intent to kill him and get the money.

George Aultman, the youngest of the brothers and only fourteen years of age, drew a revolver to defend his brother from Walters' savage attack, and fired six shots. Unfortunately his brother was jerked between him and Walters, and the first ball struck Charles back of the left ear and lodged near the right eye, causing death in four hours, after much suffering. Walters received three of the shots, two in his back and one in his head, and there are but slight hopes of his recovery. He has a sister in St. Joseph, and this is about all that can be learned in regard to him.

He has acknowledged George Aultman's statement, which is in accordance with the above, as correct, and says he is the one that caused all the trouble. Walters is bitterly condemned, as there seems to be no doubt that he intended to kill the boy for the small sum of $9. George Aultman is much grieved over the accident which caused his brother's death.

THRESHER ENGINES EXPLODE.

One in Dakota and One in Indiana—Four Men Killed—Several Hurt.

ELLENDALE, Dak., Sept. 7.—The boiler of Goulette & Letson's threshing outfit exploded near the Manitoba depot at about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. A crowd of ten or twelve men were engaged near by and of this number, eight were either killed outright or badly injured. C. J. Goulette was blown six rods. He was badly scalded and bruised, but not fatally hurt. An old man named McKinzie was instantly killed.

Four young men named McKinzie, Johnston, Emory and Griffin, sons of prominent citizens, are terribly wounded, and cannot recover. The other two who were injured will undoubtedly recover. The explosion scattered fire in all directions, and in a few minutes the prairie grass was blazing around the victims of the disaster, some of whom would have perished in the flames but for the arrival of people in the neighborhood, who had heard the noise.

Old Boiler and Too Much Steam.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Sept. 7.—A threshing machine boiler exploded on the farm of William Bennett, in this county Wednesday and caused the death of three men and the serious injury of five others. Their names are, killed: William Bennett, Henry Kearn, and Wesley Alexander. Injured: Basil Weekly, Ross White, Ambrose Thompson, George McElfresh and John Lambert. It is thought the latter cannot recover. Charles Dabb was blown one hundred feet, but was not injured. The boiler was an old one and was carrying too much steam.

Sporting Notes.

It is said that the famous left-hand pitcher, Morris, of the Pittsburghs, will play in New York next season.

Crowell, the ex-Cleveland pitcher, was tried by Louisville against Cleveland, Wednesday, and was knocked out.

William A. Sunday, center fielder of the Pittsburgh club, was married Wednesday to Miss Helen A. Thompson, of Chicago.

Jack McAuliffe, the ex-champion lightweight, will fight Patsy Kerrigan, of Boston, ten rounds, with gloves, September 24.

Not a favorite won at Sheepshead Bay races Wednesday. Leo H. Fresno, Climber, Grenadier, Long Dance and Long Branch were winners.

Arkansas Election Riot.

FORREST CITY, Ark., Sept. 7.—A bloody fight took place at Milebrook, on election day, during which one white man was fatally and six others slightly wounded. It is claimed that the negroes attempted to steal the ballot box, but finding the whites on guard, fired a volley and fled. The fire was returned by the whites, but without effect. The wounded are: John McNaith, fatally shot in temple; J. B. Kirtan, James Jones, Robert Ragsdale, J. M. Mason, George Williams and B. F. Hood.

Louisville Exposition Opened.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 7.—Louisville's great fall celebration opened Wednesday with an industrial parade five miles long and containing some very handsome floats. Twenty thousand strangers were present to see it. At night the city was illuminated, and a display of fireworks on the river was witnessed by a great throng, filling the levee and streets back to Main street. The festivities will be kept up during this month with frequent illuminations, fireworks, etc.

Crazed by Sickness.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 7.—James Ford, a farmer near here, sick for two weeks with typhoid fever, was suddenly stricken with violent insanity Wednesday evening, and, springing from his bed, seized a chair, brained his wife and two children, striking them several times before assistance came. One child was killed outright, the other will die and the wife will probably die also. The maniac was manacled by five men, who are now standing guard over him.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, SEPT. 7, 1888.

WOULDN'T it be a good idea for the city authorities to have the Market street esplanade cleaned of the old barrels and other rubbish?

SPEAKER CARLISLE is to be tendered a grand reception on his return to Covington the 17th of this month. The Democratic clubs of Cincinnati will take part.

DEMOCRATS are in favor of reducing the tariff, or tax, on the necessities of life from an average of 47 per cent, to an average of 42 per cent. When Republicans say this means "free trade," they knowingly and intentionally lie.

TO LISTEN to one of the protection speakers you would think that the Mills bill was a terrible dragon, with horns and spiked tail. Well, the Mills bill proposes to lessen unnecessary taxation just a little. You needn't be afraid of anything that takes the taxes off you.—Thurman at Battle Creek.

REPUBLICANS tried to frighten the business men four years ago with the cry that Cleveland's election meant ruin. They are trying to play the same old game this year on the workingmen.

UP to a year or so ago the very Republican leaders who are now shouting "free trade" at the Democrats, on account of the Mills bill, were advocating the very tariff revision proposed in that bill. Their cry now is false, and made only to frighten the people. But talking about free trade, here is what President Cleveland says on the subject:

"The question of free trade is absolutely irrelevant; and the persistent claim made in certain quarters that all efforts to relieve the people from unjust and unnecessary taxation are schemes of so-called free-traders, is mischievous and far removed from any consideration of public good."

Encouraging News From California.

MR. and MRS. A. J. Styles, of Shannon, passed through town yesterday en route home from a pleasant visit of two months at Santa Clara, Cal. Mr. Styles brings encouraging news from that State. He says it is the honest opinion of the best-posted men in that section that the Democrats will carry California in November. It is the general sentiment that Harrison's record on the Chinese question will lose him many a vote. In addition to this, many Republicans—especially those who are members of the M. E. Church—are dissatisfied with the "free whisky and free tobacco" platform of their party and will vote the Prohibition ticket. A big Prohibition vote from this class of citizens is expected.

Vermont.

SOME of the Republicans of this city are taking great comfort from the returns from the Vermont election. This is like the "drowning man catching at a straw," and if our Republican friends are counting much on that Vermont straw to keep them from sinking, then are they "gone gossings."

The returns from Vermont are just about what the Democrats looked for. The result is not surprising at all. No particular attention was paid to the contest by the Democrats, and they were not caring a picayune how the State went. They did not make any fight for it.

There is no political significance in the majority—about 27,000. These are the usual figures. In 1880 Garfield carried the State by 27,251. In 1884 Blaine's majority was only 22,184, but this decrease was the result of the disaffection in their own ranks.

Manufacturers Demand Low Tariff.

IT is not only the wool manufacturers who believe that reduction or abolition of duty is an advantage, but those in other branches of industry also. Here is what a prominent manufacturer of shoes says of the bad effects of a tariff upon his business:

If the materials used to make a shoe go up in price, labor always has to go down. Strikes result, as that seems to be the only way the laborer can protect himself from the encroachment of the employer. In a general strike in a shoe manufacturing center the operatives often gain temporary advantage, but with a supply greater than the demand it cannot long continue. Gentlemen, do not blame the manufacturer for trying to meet the market, or blame the operatives for resisting a reduction in wages. It all goes to show that the supply is greater than the demand.

This manufacturer then goes on to explain how the cost of shoes is increased by the duties on the articles used in their manufacture:

I will mention two or three articles and speak of the others generally. Take, for instance, serges or lastings. The average duty on the serges or lastings used in the manufacture of shoes is 85 per cent. Cotton, nalls, tacks, buttons, threads, all have to be used in the make-up of a shoe, and they are protected. If, as facetiously said, we make shoes of paper, that is protected too. In short, you have paid a duty on nearly every component part of the shoe which you are now wearing on your feet. A removal of duty on all articles used in the manufacture of a shoe would be an advantage to the employer and employed.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

Comments of the Press on the Race Between Messrs. Paynter and Burchett.

The nomination is a lucky one. Paynter is well posted in politics, a good Democrat and a good speaker.—Sentinel Democrat.

Tom Paynter has never been defeated for office, and his race for Congress is not going to be an exception.

The Democrats of this Congressional district have never been better united, and the nomination of Mr. Paynter was made without wrangling and is satisfactory to all. What we want is an organization to bring out the full Democratic vote.—Big Sandy News.

Paynter will carry the district like a whirlwind.—Bonhoun News.

Democrats must remember at all times that the full party vote must be polled this time for the party nominee—Hon. Thomas H. Paynter.

The Democracy of Fleming County has but one thing to do, and that is to pull up their sleeves, go to work and elect Mr. Paynter for Congress. Cleveland's election is assured.—Flemingsburg True Blue Democrat.

The editor of the Carlisle Mercury is not "soured" over his defeat but is satisfied with the nomination and pledges himself to do all he can for Mr. Paynter. He says: "Thomas H. Paynter was shown to be the strongest candidate before the convention, and when that fact was discovered his nomination was made unanimous, as it ought to have been. He was the choice of the people as represented in the convention. He won the fight fairly, honestly, and without combination or trick, and no Democrat can find any reason for not supporting him."

The Ashland Republican says: "We have no word of harm to say against Mr. Paynter. As a neighbor and citizen we have no doubt he is as clever and as good as Mr. Burchett."

The Opera To night.

Lovers of comic opera should not fail to see the "Two Vagabonds—Erminie" at Washington Opera House to-night. The Wilbur Opera Company will make their first appearance here, and should be greeted by a large audience. They come with the highest recommendations, having recently scored a great success at Cincinnati, where they played five weeks in succession. Mr. M. Phister, a Maysville boy, now the dramatic editor of the Commercial-Gazette and acknowledged to be one of the best critics in the country, has the following to say of the company, in a private letter:

You are to have this week (Friday night) the Wilbur Opera Company, and with them Miss Susie Kirwin, one of the most remarkable women on the American stage to-day. She created a sensation here, singing for over a month at Harris' Theater to tremendous audiences.

Maysville parties who saw the company at Cincinnati endorse all that Mr. Phister says of Miss Kirwin. The comedians, Connelly and Kohnle, are also highly spoken of. Don't fail to see them to-night.

When such a company as Wilbur's come to Maysville they should have a crowded house.

Foerster's crackers are the best. Ask your grocer for them, and take no other.

Mrs. Hannah Curtis wanted a nuisance abated in a cellar adjoining her premises. The matter had been attended to once before.

Committee on Fire Department to consult with citizens about improving fire system was discharged, the chairman not being able to get them together.

The question of exonerating Mrs. Melvina Higgins from payment of tax on $2,500 was continued in hands of committee for further investigation.

The matter of improving gutter on Market street was continued. The stone is on hand but the work has not been commenced.

The application for the extension of Grant street was referred to City Attorney with instructions to file necessary petition in Circuit Court.

Mr. Mathews said the committees were not ready to make full report as to the laying of a sewer along Front street. The railroad company was ready to put the sewer down, and as far as he had been able to learn there were no objections to the matter from the property owners.

The reorganization of the police force was continued in hands of the committee. The amount of fines assessed of recent years and due school fund was continued for the Mayor to investigate and report. A communication was read from Mrs. Emily Pearce complaining of a nuisance on Wall street, and the committee was ordered to abate the nuisance at once. The matter had been complained of several times.

Numerous complaints of other nuisances were made, and committee was directed to attend to abatement of same at once.

The coffee house license of Wm. Karr was transferred to F. W. Schaeffer.

A. Weinand and R. Frost were granted permit to erect frame shed in rear of building they occupy on Market street.

John M. Hunt and Geo. Schwartz were granted privilege of tapping sewer on Second street in front of European Hotel.

An account of Mrs. Kate King for keeping a sick pauper was referred to Committee on Alms, with power to act.

The allowance of Levi Kain was increased from $1.25 to $2 a week.

Committee on Internal Improvement was instructed to lay a new crossing from Russell's corner to Masonic Temple.

Committee on Laws and Ordinances was directed to have the provisions of the ordinance granting right of way to the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad complied with. Complaints were made about the speed at which trains were run through the city and about the company allowing cars to obstruct Commerce and Lexington streets.

Mr. Thomas R. Plister appeared and asked council to make some provision for the settlement of the judgment which Judge Stanton lately recovered against the city. The costs and all amounted to about $500. The matter was continued. Council adjourned.

REV. H. A. M. HENDERSON, of New York City, has accepted a call from Trinity M. E. Church at Cincinnati, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of the pastor, Dr. L. A. Banks, to Boston. Mr. Henderson is well known throughout this State, having been a member of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, several years.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says it is rumored there that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company has secured control of the Kentucky Central. The gap between Jellico, on the E. T. V. & G., and Livingston is about sixty miles, but the Louisville and Nashville has a piece of road that reaches the two points named, and is known as the Jellico Branch of the L. & N. If the E. T. V. & G. should secure the K. C., a traffic arrangement could be made with the L. and N. for operation over the Jellico Branch, and a through line secured to Cincinnati via the K. C., without building a mile of road.

C. H. LITCHMAN ROASTED

BY THE GENERAL MASTER WORKMAN FOR RESIGNING.

He Does Not Question His Motives But Says He Cannot See How the Knights Will Be Benefitted—Mr. Powderly Refuses to Answer Mr. Litchman's Reply.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—General Master Workman Powderly, in this week's Journal of United Labor, fills two and a half columns with an article containing the correspondence that passed between him and Charles H. Litchman, upon the latter resigning the general secretaryship of the order. First is given Litchman's letter of resignation. Powderly's reply opens with an acceptance of the resignation, and then he adds:

"While I will not question your motives in taking this step, you will, I trust, pardon me if I say I fail to see how organized labor can be benefited by having its officers cast aside the obligations and duties which their constituents imposed on them for the purpose of taking sides in a political campaign. It is true that groans and sighs are floating up from the mouths of political leaders for the wrongs of the workingmen; many of those who groan the loudest at this time may justly be classed among those who were the very worst oppressors of labor in the past.

"The tears they shed will never increase in to such an extent as to wipe away the grievous wrongs their past actions or failure to act have imposed upon the man who bends under poverty's load. You cannot blame me, then, if I call the groans and sighs mere empty sounds, the tears but a hollow mockery, and the professions of conversion to the doctrines of organized labor as the sublimity of hypocrisy. In this campaign every man has an undoubted right to so act as to confer the greatest amount of good upon his country; but the question at issue, the tariff, will not be settled when the votes are counted in November.

"The election of a president will not make a change unless the people of all the land make judicious selections of such members of the National legislature as will carry out their wishes when congress assembles. Already forty-one nominated candidates, regardless of party, have signed written pledges to work for measures of reform at the request of members of the Knights of Labor. If this plan of our order is faithfully carried out it will result in more good than any other."

Mr. Litchman writes a reply to the general master workman defending his action in determining to take part in the political campaign. He says: "I hold it more honorable to lay down official duties than to hamper private action than to retain such position, and at the same time be engaged in political scheming in secret with the party agents whom it is necessary ostensibly to public denounce."

To this last letter Mr. Powderly made no reply. He says no reply is necessary. Referring to Mr. Litchman's insinuation that "political scheming in secret" is practiced by officers of the order, Powderly says no reply is merited, for the reason that he—Powderly—is not engaged in any such work, and knows no other officer who is doing or has done so.

Mr. Powderly has expressed the opinion that Mr. Litchman's course will injure rather than aid the Republican cause; also, that the general sentiment of the Knights of Labor is strongly against Mr. Litchman's course, the general disposition being to censure him for his action.

"As an order," Mr. Powderly says, "we take no sides either way. The Knights of Labor of the west favor tariff revision in common with all other western men. In Pennsylvania they are of course protectionists, each member is free to act politically as he sees fit."

A DIABOLICAL OUTRAGE.

Thirty Alleged Men Tar and Feather a Woman at Ada, Ohio.

LIMA, O., Sept. 7.—At midnight Tuesday a band of thirty men, calling themselves White Caps, made a descent upon a house of ill-fame at Ada, O., ten miles east of here, kept by a woman named Strunk.

They called her to the door, and when she appeared, with no clothing on but a chemise, the mob seized her, and tying the chemise up over her head, led her a short ways off, to where a kettle of tar and a bag of feathers were in waiting.

The tar was hot and ready. Strong hands scooped up the sticky fluid and plastered it over the terrified victim and then a thick coating of feathers was added.

When the hideous costume was fully completed the woman was given twenty-four hours to leave town, which she promised to do.

There were several other persons in the house when the descent was made, but they escaped.

A White Cap Notice.

ADA, O., Sept. 7.—A vigilante committee has been organized in this place, styling itself the White Caps. The following is a notice left by them at the office of the Ada Record for publication:

"We, as a band of White Caps, thirty in number, request you to publish that we raided the Strunk mansion, tarred and feathered her and a certain young man, smashed the windows and doors and gave them notice to leave in ten days or they would get a worse dose. There are other ranches in town that will be treated likewise if not stopped also.

"A hell-hole run as a restaurant, or a first-class saloon, should take warning and stop, or you will be visited in ten days. Leave town, both of you, as we don't need you, and mean it."

Strike Ended.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—A Canton, O., special says: After over four months' illness, during which time much misery has ensued, the striking coal miners near Sharodsville and Salineville have returned to work at the operators' terms. The strike was caused by the refusal of the operators to grant an increase of five cents per ton, and 400 miners were affected by the strike, which was broken by the last of the miners returning to work Wednesday.

Thurman in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Judge Thurman reached this city Wednesday, and was escorted to the Fifth Avenue hotel. At 5 p. m. he dined with Chairman Bruce and Barnum and afterwards received a few callers. While his train was coming to New York numerous ovations were given him by crowds along the railroad at different stations. At Lancaster, Pa., the judge made a speech to between 2,000 and 3,000 people assembled at the depot.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—A Shreveport, La., special to the Democrat says: The grand jury to day returned true bills for murder against George Brown, Henry Brown, William Hawkins, Wyatt Lundy, Caspar Peyton and Levi Christian, the six negroes charged with the assassination of Edwin Scott on Sunday last. The fact was clearly established that a conspiracy had been entered into for the purpose of getting Scott out of the way, in order to prevent him from testifying against George Brown, who was shortly to be tried for larceny. Most all of the above named men of the more prominent class of colored people, some of them being property owners.

SHE'S ALL RIGHT.

Naval Experts Satisfied With the Cruiser Boston.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The test of the big guns of the steel cruiser Boston was completed Wednesday, and the naval gunnery experts aboard declared themselves entirely satisfied. The test was made in the afternoon just beyond the Sandy Hook lightship. The guns were run out and manned, magazines opened, powder and shell passed along and the first starboard broadside gun was fired with reduced charges. The charges were increased until the full force had been reached. All the starboard guns were then tried until the gunnery experts were perfectly satisfied that the new appliances were all that could be expected.

The Boston then returned to her old anchorage off Sandy Hook, and Commander Charles O'Neil, Lieut. C. A. Bradbury and Ensign R. B. Dashiell boarded the tug Nina, which conveyed them to the Brooklyn navy yard. Lieut. Bradbury was ill during Wednesday's test, and upon his arrival at the navy yard was taken to the Brooklyn Navy hospital. Capt. O'Neil told a reporter that the test was a great success. The Boston will now test her compasses, in order to ascertain whether the firing of the heavy guns had any effect upon them. She will then return to the Brooklyn navy yard.
